Individual members have been the strength of The Arc New York since its origin in 1949. People working together as members provided the manpower for our chapter, the state organization, The Arc New York, and the national organization, The Arc. The collective effort of our founding members built the foundation on which the many programs and services for children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities which are available today.

The Arc New York is an organization influenced from the grassroots upward. The grassroots tradition of The Arc New York and Arc of Onondaga is the pulse that influences the directions of public policy, constitutes the basis for legislative action, and promotes social change. Let's remember that the hard work and active membership got us where we are today is needed to help meet the challenges that still exist.
